Juno Continuation Fund – February 2025

MANAGER COMMENTARY

In February, many companies published their 2024 results. There were no major surprises. Straumann, Rational, Novonesis, ICON and Scout24 all performed as expected. ALK had an exceptionally successful 2024 and advanced investments in R&D and in its sales force. As a result, earnings growth in the fourth quarter was slightly lower than some had expected, but at the same time, achieving the turnover and earnings targets in 2025 will be a lot easier. The expectation that the weighted earnings growth for 2024 for the entire JCF portfolio will be around 12% remains unchanged. Companies that gave their expectations for 2025 were generally also optimistic for the coming year. Geopolitical tensions were of course discussed; due to the often unique products that these companies supply, there is pricing power that can absorb any higher import tariffs. The largest positive contribution during the month came from Novonesis, while ALK and Amplifon had the largest negative price impact. The existing position in Bachem was expanded during the month.

STRATEGY

Juno invests in highly profitable listed companies, with predictable earnings growth and preferably with management or a (founding) family as their main shareholders. Listed European family-owned companies operate with a longer term perspective and are more successful than non-family-owned companies¹.

Juno aims to achieve capital growth by investing in a highly concentrated portfolio of European companies. Selection takes place based on its proprietary fundamental, bottom-up analysis and on-site visits.

A high or rising return on capital and large free cash flows are good indicators of strong companies that we are interested in. We invest with a time horizon of 3 to 5 years.

The Juno Continuation Fund focuses on companies with a market cap between €4 billion and €20 billion at the moment of initial investment.
